We are a small mom and pop shop that focuses on in-person, private music lessons. Please understand our teachers work hard to coordinate with multiple families, and that our time is valuable. We are unique in offering rescheduling options and strive to value your family individually. Please reach out with any needs or concerns.

*Snow Day* Policy: Creative Bridges Studios follows local school snow closures. You can ask to see if your teacher offers virtual lessons, request a rescheduling link, or simply miss.

Holiday Policy: the studio will be closed New Year's Day, Memorial Day, Independence Day, Labor Day, Thanksgiving and Christmas.

Make the most of your plan:

① Create a goal of how many lessons you would like to attend.

- Attend as regularly as you can to see continued progress.
- Plan vacations and/or appointments.

Plan ahead and look at the studio calendar. Understand steady progress needs regular attendance and consider an Annual or Semester Plan if you can!

② Set an achievable practice schedule with your child.

- Make the most of your investment and help your child practice! This may mean even sitting down with your child for practice, depending on the age.
- Encourage your child to set their own practice schedule and achieve personal goals. Understand how your child experiences success and use that to your advantage.
- The studio has its own reward systems for weekly practice and completing books. Ask about these reward systems to make the most of it!
